Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless – a. Claims 1-6 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Adkins et al. Adkins discloses in figure 3 all of the limitations of the claimed invention. A frame 18, seat 40, handlebar 10, foot support 126, and upper foot support 32, link 24 pivotally connected between the handle bar and foot support and a connector link (above 126) perpendicular to the foot support

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

b. Claims 7-10, 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Adkins et al as applied to claim 3 and 11 above, and further in view of Wang. Adkins et al discloses all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the handlebar link, intermediate portion. Wang et al teaches a handle 41 and handlebar link 43 and an intermediate portion 47 pivotally connected to the frame. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a handlebar link on the handlebar in order to provide a pivotal movement between the handlebar and the frame.

Art Unit: 3764

c. Claims 14-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Adkins et al as applied to claim 11 above, and further in view of Wu. Adkins et al discloses all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the handlebar pivot about a first axis and the foot support pivot about a second axis. Wu teaches the handlebar and a foot support pivoting about a first and second axis. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a handlebar pivotal movement about a separate axis from the foot support in order to provide a variety of exercises to the user.
